

Uzkathoth-

Trust in the Dark Master to guide you to glory. Just as you molded the Earth Temple anew from the ashes of Garrick's defeat, so too shall you rebound from the incursions of these meddling intruders. Service to the Eye demands patience. With patience comes insight. If I did not find your people worthy I would not have supported your efforts against Tessimon. Prove yourself here and you will stand beside Uremoch himself when we are called to judgement before the Elder Elemental Eye.

Nonetheless, I know you cannot rebound alone. Ukemil carries the diamonds necessary to restore your fallen comrades. Heed his advice. His strategic mind served him well in his quest to ascend to the Fane. Let it now serve you as well.

May you feast on the warm entrails of these insolent unbelievers.
